

Standards Based Learning

Standards-based learning is an excellent way to evaluate students' progress in mastering standards or competencies. Standards-based learning is a system that encompasses the instruction, assessment, measurement, and reporting necessary to determine a student's mastery of the knowledge, processes, and skills identified as priorities. This approach fosters transparency, fairness, and student ownership, helping both educators and learners understand exactly where students are in their learning journey.

In this session, participants will:

- Explore the core principles and benefits of standards-based learning
- Learn the essential components of a classroom-level SBL system: instruction, assessment, measurement, and reporting
- Examine how to scale standards-based learning across a school or district
- Discuss strategies for engaging parents and the broader community in understanding and supporting the system

Whether you're just starting or refining your current approach, this session will provide practical tools and thoughtful guidance for building a standards-based learning system that supports student success.

Target Audience: Curriculum Directors, Administrators, instructional coaches, lead teachers assigned to the duty of overseeing curriculum writing and classroom teachers interested in learning more about standards-based learning

Materials Needed/Interactive Level: Participants will have multiple opportunities to share their thoughts and ideas with other attendees.

Time: 9:00 am - 2:00 pm (lunch break @ 11:30)
